With the MP-501SPF, 601SPF and SP-5300, 5310 B&W multifunctional copiers Ricoh has introduced a series of fast devices that provide high-quality A4 monochrome-output at up to 1200x1200 dpi resolution and up to 60ppm. These compact devices are designed for small space and can be used as standalone multifunctional device or integrated in a workgroup or in a MPS environment and help reducing printing cost.

All of these models are featuring flexible printing/copying and offer various electronic possibilities to customize settings and create shortcuts for frequently used functions. Further, they offer features for converting documents into electronic files and share them via network folders.

Printing-cost of these devices can be substantially reduced without compromising on image-quality or performance by using CROSS Imaging-Supplies' Premium Quality compatible toner (engineered in Japan) which is also compatible with the equivalent Lanier and Savin machines.
